

DRILL OF CADETS COMPLETED TODAY

Final Competition Takes Place at Ball Park This Afternoon.

LARGE CROWD WATCHES FIVE COMPANIES MARCH

Event Also Marks End of Especially Successful Year for the Military Body.

With loud cheers sounding from all parts of the grandstand and pavilions, the final chapter of the annual competitive drill of the High School Cadets took place this afternoon at the American League Ball Park. Late this afternoon, following the competitions of one company from each of the five white high schools, the judges will announce the winning company.

The companies drilling this afternoon are: Company E, 1st Regiment, Central High School; Company G, 2d Regiment, Business High School; Company C, 2d Regiment, McKinley Manual Training School; Company H, 1st Regiment, Western High School; and Company G, 1st Regiment, Eastern High School. Those of morning, Companies I, 2d Regiment, and E, 2d Regiment, both of Business High School, and Company F, 1st Regiment, Eastern High School.

This afternoon holds the greatest interest for the thousands of persons interested in the cadets, of course. Yesterday and this morning the number of persons attending the drill was comparatively small, being limited for the most part to students of the school represented and relatives of boys in the respective companies on the field.

To Hold Celebrations Tonight.

Following the end of the drill this afternoon the companies, including both winners and losers, will return to their respective schools, where celebrations will be held. Those who win first, second and third places in the drill will be told how proud their school is of them, while those companies which failed to carry off any of the honors will be told how proud their school is of them and how the school knows they will "do better next year."

Today marks the end of the year for the cadets as an organized body. It is considered by the school officials one of the most successful years in the history of the military body. Not only have the boys learned company maneuvers as in former years, but they have also learned certain rudiments of "the war game" and have had more target practice as cadets than ever before. This has been largely due to the work of Lieut. E. Z. Steever, U. S. A., who has voluntarily given his services to the schools here.

DIAMOND PIN FOR REZIN ORR.

Union Leader Recipient of Gift From Trolley Employees.

Rezin Orr, international treasurer of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, was this morning the recipient of a diamond and pearl scarfpin, presented to him in recognition of his services in the establishment of Division 689 of the organization, the local union composed of Capital Traction and Washington Railway and Electric employees. This union's strike was ended through the good offices of the District Commissioners. Mr. Orr not only worked here for many weeks putting the new organization on a firm footing, but acted as its spokesman on numerous occasions during the delicate negotiations just before and just subsequent to the calling off of the strike. L. A. Sterne, volunteer organizer for the District of the American Federation of Labor, made the presentation on behalf of Division 689, at a meeting of that body held in Typographical Temple.

JURIST AND STATESMAN FROLIC IN FORUM DANCE

Justice Siddons and Representative Johnson Join Miss Margaret Wilson in Rollicking Reels.

Miss Margaret Wilson, Justice Frederick L. Siddons of the District Supreme Court, Representative Ben Johnson, chairman of the House District Committee, and others frolicked and danced with school children at a social event closing the Grover Cleveland Community Forum activities in the auditorium of the school last evening.

Miss Wilson and Representative Johnson led a grand march of intricate windings and serpentine windings, and again with Frederick Stephens as a partner Miss Wilson led a vivacious Virginia reel, in which three groups were spiritedly dancing at one time, including Justice Siddons, Corporation Counsel Conrad Syme and a number of members of Congress.

At the request of Representative Johnson the old-time "Dan Tucker" was also danced, these same prominent men enjoying the frolic like schoolboys. Two songs were introduced as a surprise for Miss Wilson, who is the honorary president of the community forum, and was largely instrumental in its organization. These were "We're With You, Miss Wilson," composed by Prof. Edward Ward of the United States bureau of education, and "The Forum," composed by Justice Stafford of the District Supreme Court.

Likens Board to Mother-in-Law.

Miss Wilson presided at the speaking part of the program and called first upon Justice Siddons. She herself, in speaking of the school board, likened that body to a mother-in-law, explaining that at first the mother-in-law grants the newly married couple privileges, but after they all get better adjusted to new relations she recognizes that the new family has certain rights rather than privileges and she allows them to exercise these rights undisturbed.

Other speakers were Representative Siddons of the District appropriations committee, Representative Baker of California, Corporation Counsel Syme, Miss Frances Fairley, principal of the school, and Miss Cecil B. Norton, secretary of the forum.

The program was arranged by Miss Norton, with Miss Fairley's assistance. One of the pretty features was rhythmic dancing, in which solos were given by Flora Kall, Golder Norton and Anna Norton. The chorus consisted of Marie Dodek, Martha Ward, McLeod, Fannie Josephine Marce, Ella Bryan and Mildred Boyd.

Miss Florence Chambers served as chairman of the decoration committee and Mrs. George McLeod of the refreshment committee.

MAY MAKE 18 THE VOTING AGE

Sweeping Changes Proposed in British Columbia Referendum.

VICTORIA, B. C., June 1.—A prohibition act, which if approved at the general election next September would prohibit the sale of liquors in bars, retail liquor stores and clubs after June 1, 1917, and a referendum measure providing for woman suffrage and extending the vote to all men over eighteen years of age who are serving with the overseas forces, are ranked today among the important measures passed by the provincial legislature, which was prorogued here last night after a session lasting three months. Among other bills which shared the attention of the public was the shipbuilding act, which authorizes government assistance in the building of wooden vessels for the British Columbia trade.
